

It is Christmas day. The Merlo family is celebrating at their house. They live in San Diego, so no snow for them. Their house is on a canyon and has a pool. It is decorated with a tree and lights for the holiday.

Jaidyn, his mom and his sister are busy in the kitchen finishing up making Christmas dinner. They are having their grandparents and Aunt and Uncle over for dinner. Jaidyn dad is cooking the turkey. They set all the food on the table. All the people that were coming for Christmas start to arrive at their house. The Merlo family ran up stairs to get nicer clothes on.

When they went upstairs Jeffy the dog licked his lips and looked at the Christmas dinner. Jeffy is Jaidyn's fluffy, 6 month old Bernedoodle puppy with white, black and brown fur. Kloe is Jaidyn's sister cat who has black, grey and white fur. Kloe and Jeffy are best friends and they like to play together.

"That turkey smells delicious!" Jeffy drooled. "No" Kloe the cat meowed, "No, no, no, no, no." Jeffy looked at her, winked, and jumped up on the table. He was just about to take a big bite when he heard footsteps coming down the stairs. He jumped down pleased with himself that he hadn't eaten anything yet. No one noticed anything, but as soon as they went outside to take a family picture he jumped right back up. Kloe saw him and this time she followed Jeffy onto the table. She stuffed her black furry head in the whipped cream. Jeffy's pink tongue licked his shiny white teeth and his hair flew over his head as he took a giant bite into the turkey.

The door opened and the whole family walked inside. Their jaws dropped when they saw Kloe and Jeffy on the table. Jeffy and Kloe froze and then bolted off the table knocking down plates and glasses on the way. Jaidyn and his family stood in disbelief and realized that their Christmas dinner was ruined. Jaidyn felt annoyed but he had to laugh at what his mischievous pets had done.

Jeffy ran upstairs as fast as he could and hid under Kaiya's bed. Kloe turned and ran into Jaidyn's mom and dad's room and hid in their closet. Jaidyn, Kaiya and their mom and dad sprinted up the stairs in hot pursuit. They searched for the guilty pets. They spotted Jeffy under Kaiya's bed but before they could grab him, he quickly turned and broke away. He dashed down two sets of stairs to the down down stairs bedroom. This time he wasn't so lucky. Jaidyn's dad snatched Jeffy by his collar. He put Jeffy in his kennel to stay for the rest of the night.

Then they turned to hunt down Kloe. They looked everywhere in Jaidyn's and Kaiya's room. They found nothing. Then they went into the mom and dad's room and they looked everywhere. They finally went in the closet. Kloe was hiding under a sweatshirt. She turned her head to see what was happening and that was when they saw the sweatshirt move. They grabbed the sweatshirt but missed Kloe. She jumped and tried to go down the stairs but Jaidyn's Uncle was standing there and he dove on her. He gave Kloe to Kaiya and Kaiya locked Kloe in her room.

Since their Christmas dinner was ruined, they ordered pizza and started cleaning up the mess.

The End...
