

Doc and the Kool-Aid Guy

This story is in a magical forest and three dwarfs live in a house. The house is silver and gold. It is surrounded by trees. The trees are short and long. There are no other houses. It smells like a forest. My character's name is Doc. He is smart and funny and he is tan in color. He wears only black clothes and he gets annoyed easily. He is nice and he is helpful.

Doc is one of the 3 dwarfs. One of Doc's brothers is Dopey. He is clumsy and dumb. He is annoyingly friendly. Dopey can't talk because he never tried. He wears a green shirt and he wears brown pants and has normal ears. Another one of Doc's brothers is Sleepy because he is always tired. Sleepy falls asleep every 5 minutes. He is always yawning and wears pajamas all day long and they all live in the same house. There would be no Wicked Witch in this story because she died of old age.

One day Doc was chillaxing on the sofa and then an ad with the Kool-Aid guy came on tv. The Kool-Aid guy was putting Kool-Aid powder into a cup and then he gave it to someone. Then the person said, "mmm tasty!" Seconds after the ad finished, the Kool-Aid guy came through the wall and said, "Oh Yeah" very loudly! He was big, red and made of a glass pitcher. Sleepy was still sleeping when this happened. Dopey was walking in the house and when the Kool-Aid Guy came in, he fell down. Doc was surprised and mad and yelled, "Why did you do that?!" The Kool-Aid guy said, "because you don't like my Kool-Aid powder." Then the Kool-Aid guy gave Doc some Kool-Aid powder to try. Doc didn't know the powder was poisoned. But Doc was allergic to the Kool-Aid powder so he dumped it in the trash but the Kool-Aid guy kept giving Doc different color poisoned Kool-Aid powder everyday.

The Kool-Aid guy kept breaking one of the walls from Doc's house everyday because Doc didn't like any of the Kool-Aid powders. Doc was very mad about the Kool-Aid guy breaking his house because that is his only house. Doc would yell at him, "STOP BREAKING MY HOUSE!" The Kool-Aid guy eventually broke the entire house. Holes were in all sides of the house. All of the windows were broken. Doc was mad that the Kool-Aid guy did this to his house. So Doc built a robot to keep out the Kool-Aid guy. Dopey and Sleepy didn't help because Sleepy was taking a nap and Dopey didn't know how to build anything. So Doc went to IKEA to buy parts for the robot. When Doc finished building the robot it was as big as the Kool-Aid guy and was shiny with four arms and two legs. Then the robot, Doc, Sleepy and Dopey all went to IKEA to get materials to fix the house together.

When the Kool-Aid guy came back he saw the robot and was scared. The robot took all his Kool-Aid powder and threw it in the trash so the Kool-Aid guy did not break the walls anymore.

After that the Kool-Aid guy stopped breaking the walls Doc became happy, Sleepy was eating breakfast in the middle of the day and Dopey was just being dopey. THE END!
