

Mayra's 1st Birthday Party

Mayra is turning one years old and I am going to throw her the best birthday ever! I have it all planned out, I have a petting zoo coming to surprise her. The day before her birthday party I started decorating. I put up purple and pink streamers in the backyard, and I blew up a lot of balloons. I put some of the balloons on the floor so Mayra and her friends could play with them. I put balloons up with the streamers so they were also hanging all over our big backyard. Okay it is almost party time and I am really excited to see how much fun Mayra and her friends will have. The petting zoo is here and we have a lot of animals in our backyard. The petting zoo brought 1 porcupine, 3 baby goats and 2 mommy goats, 2 bunny rabbits, 1 pony and a giraffe. Mayra was having so much fun petting all of the animals! The porcupine somehow got off of his leash and started popping all of the balloons that were on the floor. Pop Pop Pop ... Everyone was screaming because they were so scared of the noise no one knew what was going on. All of the animals started going crazy and were running around the backyard. The giraffe and the pony broke the gate in the backyard and got out. They were running up and down the street. I had to run and chase to get the animals back with the petting zoo person. It took forever to get them back but we did it and the party was finally back to normal. Mayra loved her party even with the porcupine messing up the balloons and scaring everyone.

The End
