

Candy land byRio kusano

Hi I'm Kayla and I'm 18years old I like to craft and I have a brother named Joshua and he likes to play games He likes to play Minecraft and what he likes to do to me is distract me From my work! Isn't that rude?so today I'm going to talk about my weird day. So I was going to bed and it was stil 6:00pm so I decided to watch one movie. I watched a movie that made me hungry. I was watching candy movies. So i was thinking that if i was in candy land i would eat lots of candy i thought. and my mom came. She said go to sleep now.so i did go to sleep but still thinking about candy land .the next day i woke up in heaven ?I thought, it did not even look like my house. I had a dictionary so I looked for candy land and there it was. read this someone sad so i read it, it sid

This Real Life Candyland Is the Sweetest Place in the World

IN THE WORLD... CANDY SWEET, A LITTLE PIECE OF HEAVEN IN THE CITY OF ANGELS WHERE SUGAR LOVER'S DREAMS COME TRUE AND MANY PEOPLE TOO.

.Okay so what you do is close your eyes count to five and open your eyes. I think you'll be in Candyland well what about you my brother said .maybe i will go with you or maybe not because you can only use that twice so if you let me use one then you won't we won't be able to come back. Well at least Maybe There was this portal that Made me go to my house. So let's try, my brother said, so we close our eyes count to five when we open our eyes. We were not at Candyland . I don't know? me Kayla that's not what it looked like when I went to candyland so there was a store that had lots of candy so maybe it's candyland but it was kind of like a house it wasn't really big but we open the windows if it was Candyland so I guess this is my house or my brother i said this is our house my brother said so what we do here is if you can at least like eat candy and yea oh and did I mention the king's name maybe I didn't tell you. now so the King's name was I think Bellow maybe it's a weird name but that's the king's name so the king he was so fat like a big tree or a turampilean he came and said what are you doing here and I explained that my brother wanted to go to candyland I do not want bellow mad but I was maybe scared but my brother was not scared I don't know how I don't know and I don't know how my brother was not scared even he can explain everything every single thing even he tells the king that he went to school and what happened in school He didn't tell me what happened in school even though he doesn't know the king even though he doesn't know his name and the king speaks a different language but I know what he's saying "hi I am Miss Bello and what are you doing" will let go some were alls i said oh and there was this one girl that helped me in the puddle I didn't make sure that in the portal part but there was this Japanese girl and she said she came from Japan to here and her mom used to live here and then they move to Japan because her mom wanted to be in Japan the girls like Candyland so she decided to stay in Candyland but one thing about her she doesn't know what the king is saying mr. Bello is saying we have to help her but she's a nice girl. She helps me to save my life by making me go to the portal and go to my school and go to my house. when I first met her she was so weird. she said what am I I like your bag can you see yourself did you lost your mind i said will one thing she know is her name her name was nina that's my name she said she didn't know what everything mean like what happened to her is she a robot broken but she did not care she just left a normal life over again starting at 18 so yeah I said 18 she is the same age as me. and she start a life at 18 which is kind of sad she didn't remember her mom and her family she doesn't know what family means she doesn't have a family she thinks actually she has family so I had to bring her to her pants back to her family's so I tried but I can find them but there were another portal it said to japan we want there and we were at japan and after 2 weeks there were an adult saying have you ever seen a kid i said yes i have here the adult was crying then said thanks for finding the kid well you remember everything now I said she said yes i do her mom was happy but I was having a trouble going back to my house which is in America or in Canada how should I go back I said her mom said . you can ride on a airplane I don't have enough money I said I can get the money she said cuz you were the one that found my girl i can help you go back her mom said ok i said she said puf guess where I was I was at my house Canada well some troubles I didn't know where my house was but my brother did I was like oh good brother I didn't know my brother was so smart when we were at are house every day i had a picture in my desk

I wondered who it was...so who is it? I want to know but if it was somebody from candy land I do not want to go because many or not many people will help me. Who is it?and what another problem. This will be easy.i think

To be continued

Hi my name is Rio I'm the author of Candyland hoped you enjoyed it.I'm 9 years old what I learned from writing is you have to keep trying till you get the answer that you want if you stop trying and give up you're just going to like not get the answer you want If you like stop trying you're you're just going to stick with that and if you tried you're going to get better and better Maybe you maybe hate it if you hate it you can take a deep breath or get some snack or go to a walk you just have to try.every one have to try if they want to get good at something.